Power 99 Fm and Philadelphia Futures Award Five $1,000 Scholarships to Local High School Students
Students submitted 299-word essays about how a college education would help them to create peaceful communities; The winners will attend tonight's Powerhouse 2013 Concert.

Philadelphia, Pa. (October 25, 2013) — In conjunction with tonight's Power 99 Powerhouse 2013 Concert, Power 99 and Philadelphia Futures – a non-profit that provides Philadelphia's low-income, first-generation-to-college students with the tools, resources and opportunities necessary for admission to and success in college – will award five local high school students with a $1,000 college scholarship. The winning students all entered the Power 99/Philadelphia Futures Scholarship contest and wrote a 299-word essay explaining how a college education would help them to make their community a safer place.

The five winning students are:

- Noah Chapman – Palmyra, New Jersey
- Tiana Cousin – Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
- Ambishous Hault – New Castle, Delaware
- Joseph Watson – Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
- Laticha Williams – Camden, New Jersey

The scholarship winners will be attending the Powerhouse 2013 Concert, where they will take a backstage tour and participate in a photo opportunity with members of the Power 99 and Philadelphia Futures teams.

Each of the $1,000 scholarships will be administered to the students after they graduate from high school and have been accepted into college. The scholarship money can be used to help cover the cost of tuition and other college-related costs, such as books and transportation to and from school.
